Coaching Profile

Mary-Rose Lines
Hogan Coaching Network

Background

Mary-Rose is a highly experienced consultant with management experience and insight into a diverse range of business environments. She combines academic qualifications in HR and occupational psychology tools with a practical business focus. She has extensive experience at senior levels in talent management, assessment, and coaching across a wide range of business sectors.

Her coaching assignments include executive coaching, onboarding coaching and transition coaching at MD, CEO, and Board Director level. She has also worked extensively on assessment and development for high potential leaders. She believes that leaders have the resources and capability to reach new levels of confidence and performance given the right conditions in which to reflect.

Before becoming a consultant, Mary-Rose worked as an HR professional in a global manufacturing business and began her career as a senior manager in a Social Care setting.
