

Josh Rogers

Coaching Profile

Josh Rogers, MBA
Hogan Coaching Network

Background

Josh Rogers is an accomplished executive coach and consultant with a focus on senior leadership and high-potential development. He helps leaders in large organizations grow their self-awareness, thrive in complexity, and increase their leadership impact.

Josh partners with clients to design pragmatic developmental strategies that drive business and personal impact. His coaching approach is grounded in the science of adult development, his experience working with leaders responsible for global scale, and his personal connection with his clients. Josh has partnered with global clients in industries such as healthcare, retail, tech, professional services, nonprofit, and real estate, and numerous functions such as finance, strategy, operations, sales, engineering, and marketing.

With experience using Hogan as an internal practitioner, external executive coach, and Hogan consultant, Josh brings a unique perspective that his clients appreciate. He's had the opportunity to work on dozens of Hogan use-cases throughout his career.
