Background

Amie Rowe, PhD, has been a member of the Hogan Coaching Network for more than a decade. In this capacity, she provides leadership and expertise related to interpretation, feedback, and coaching for leaders and executive teams using the Hogan assessments. An experienced facilitator, she teaches Hogan Assessments certification workshops, instructing more than 500 professionals each year to use Hogan tools.

For the past 35 years, Amie has been passionate about supporting leaders, teams, and organizations as they navigate growth, challenges, or critical transitions. Regarding her coaching approach, Amie uses assessment-based coaching to help individuals gain strategic self-awareness and facilitate change.

As a collaborative partner, Amie brings fresh perspectives, offering coaching and guidance to boost leadership success, enhance team effectiveness, and elevate organizational performance. She excels at helping leaders discover their voice and strengthen their personal brand. With a deep appreciation for cultural differences, she finds fulfillment in coaching and partnering with companies and leaders worldwide.
